

EXT. THE SECOND ROOF (LATER)

Deckard is looking at Batty. Batty is partly crumpled, frozen in an unnatural position as though he had been writhing and stopped mid writhe. He looks back at Deckard with eyes full of life and intensity. They stare at each other for a long time in silence, communicating something with their eyes... without expression. Finally Batty breaks the silence.

BATTY

I've seen things...

(long pause)

seen things you little people wouldn't believe... Attack ships on fire off the shoulder of Orion ... I watched c-beams glitter in the dark near the Tanhauser Gate.

(pause)

all those moments... will be lost like tears in rain. Time to die.

Batty holds Deckard's eyes like a hypnotist.

CUT TO:

EXT. THE SECOND ROOF (A LITTLE LATER)

Batty is crumpled in a different position. It's lighter now and Batty's eyes are staring into infinity...almost lifelessly. A pigeon flutters down and perches on his shoulder. Batty doesn't stir. Deckard is watching motionless. The pigeon flies off. Batty doesn't move.
